

This dataset contains pre-survey, post-survey, and follow-up survey responses from participants in 12 International Development Design Summits that took place between 2014 and 2017. It combines 36 individual data sets into a single master set.

In most cases, the column header contains the full text of the survey question. For "select multiple" questions, the column header begins with the question option, and the original question follows in brackets.

The three IDDS survey instruments evolved each year. While many questions remain consistent year to year, there are some summits where a particular question was not asked, and will appear as blank for all respondents from that summit.

Blank responses are indicated with a "."

A "1" indicates a positive response and a "0" indicates a negative response.

All scales in the survey are on a scale of 1-5. (i.e. 1=Not at all confident, 5=Very confident)
